

Placed in Jail.

Matthew G. Holland failing to give bond in a bastardy case was placed in jail at this place last Friday. His attorney having applied for his release on a writ of habeas corpus, he was carried to Huntingdon yesterday for trial. The writ of habeas corpus was sustained, and the attorneys for the plaintiff appealed to the Supreme Court.

Marriage Licenses.

The following licenses to marry have been issued from the Benton County clerk's office since the last issue of THE CHRONICLE:

William Garner and Nancey C. Brewer.

L. D. Wynn and L. J. Matheny.

Charles Sullivan and Flora Bowles.

Thomas Johnson and Lamira Warford.

D. D. Daley and M. E. Adams.

New Bank Officers.

The annual election of officers of the Camden Bank and Trust Company occurred last Monday, and the following gentlemen were elected officers and directors:

B. F. Hatley, president; F. G. Hudson, vice-president; A. C. McRae, cashier; B. F. Hatley, A. C. McRae, Alex. Adams, F. G. Hudson, M. A. Hatley, W. G. Hatley, and A. J. Saunders, directors.

A statement rendered shows a 10 per cent. dividend for the past six months.

Quite Romantic.

Mr. Charles H. Sullivan and Miss Flora Bowles, a popular young couple of this place, eloped and were married last Tuesday.

Miss Bowles, who was a student at the seminary went to school as usual Tuesday morning, thereby avoiding suspicion. Mr. Sullivan made all necessary arrangements for a speedy tying of the nuptial knot, and then called at the school building for his bride, and by some means—we don't know how—succeeded in getting her away from the school without creating alarm, then the couple proceeded to the residence of Mr. L. E. Davis, 1 mile east from Camden, where they were united in marriage.

The young couple then returned to the residence of Mr. Sullivan's mother, Mrs. P. Melton, where an impromptu wedding feast was soon spread.

Mr. Sullivan is a step-son of Mr. P. Melton, and his bride the daughter of Mr. J. T. Bowles.

THE CHRONICLE joins with numerous other friends in wishing them a pleasant voyage through life.

Miss Tina Pierce, a student at Holladay High School, who has been visiting her mother Mrs. Emily Pierce, returned to school today.

Mrs. Nannie Beaton gave an "old woman's quilting" one day last week, and a social entertainment for the young people at night, both of which were greatly enjoyed.

The New Hope Wheel of the Farmers' and Laborers' Union met last Saturday and elected Peyton Pierce as president, A. H. Melton vice-president, Leander Holland secretary, and Isaac Matheny treasurer, as their officers for the ensuing year.

Fairview, January 13.

Camden ought to have at least 2,000 inhabitants by this time next year. What inducements will our people offer to get industrious and intelligent people to locate in our midst.

LOCAL PERSONAL

Mr. Harvey Garrett is at home again.

Tax Assessor McAuley is making his rounds.

Mr. Will C. Davis is recovering from a slight indisposition.

The first snow of the season at this place fell Monday night. It was very light.

Rev. M. V. Utley will preach at Union church, near Holladay, next Sunday afternoon.

There is considerable "kicking" about the court-yard fence. It is thought to be too light.

Work on putting up the new iron fence around the court-yard was commenced Monday.

Mr. Will Farmer has gone to Gainesville, Tex., where he expects to make his future home.

Mr. Guy Hall came in from Texas last Friday morning on a visit to his father, Mr. Henry Hall.

Messrs. J. C. Wheatley and J. C. Berry, of Lutertown, were in the city on business Wednesday.

Messrs. W. C. Benton and G. B. Greer have exchanged residences. They will move in a short time.

Mr. I. W. Gibson is building a business house in South Camden, and contemplates other improvements.

Mrs. R. C. Bridges, of Belcher, Tex., who with her husband are visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. B. W. Bridges, has been sick with the measles.

Alex. Bivens has secured a position on the Huntingdon Republican, and informs us he will go over Monday to assume his duties.

W. C. Davis has purchased the old tumble-down Hartley building, and that part of it in the street will be cleared away at an early day.

The Stigall building, formerly occupied by the Camden Bank and Trust Company, is being fitted up with counters and shelving to be used as a grocery store.

We are informed that Mr. J. C. Davis, of Big Sandy, contemplates locating at this place in the near future. Mr. Davis will receive a hearty welcome to our midst.

Attorneys T. C. Rye, A. J. Farmer, S. L. Peeler, and sheriff E. G. Flowers went to Huntingdon yesterday, to take part in the Holland habeas corpus proceedings.

Misses Nannie Hatley and Ada Fry, of Coxburgh, and Misses Eunice Fry and Fannie Travis, of Camden, were pleasant young lady callers at this office Tuesday afternoon.

Cards are out announcing the marriage of Rev. James H. Cason, of this place to Miss Catherine Pettigrew, at the residence of the bride's father, Sulphur Creek, Tenn., the 21st instant.

The Reading Club failed to appoint a place for the next meeting, before it adjourned at the last meeting, which was held at the residence of Mr. A. C. McRae, last Monday evening.

Mr. W. F. Harrison, of Holladay, a member of the firm of Harrison & Adams, stove manufacturers, of that place, called at THE CHRONICLE office while in Camden Monday and left an order for some job printing.

Mr. Orlando Lashlee, son of representative Lashlee of this county, made a good race for assistant sergeant-at-arms of the house. At one time he was in the lead, but his name was finally withdrawn in the interest of harmony.

A sensational report, without particulars, circulated in Camden Wednesday morning, to the effect that Mr. Eugene Wyly, living a few miles southeast of this place, was suffering from the effects of poison, and was not expected to live, was without foundation. He is very ill, however, with pneumonia.

QUARTERLY COURT.

Proceedings of the January, 1891, Term.

The court ordered that Nelson Brown, colored, be released from confinement in the county jail upon condition that he immediately leave the county.

W. H. Hyatt was unanimously elected as commissioner of poor.

The court disallowed the account of Dr. J. A. C. Barnes for medical attention to Camile Bond.

S. M. Lashlee, guardian of Mary E. Roberson, renewed bond with J. M. Lashlee and L. O. Lashlee securities.

Sheriff Flowers was instructed to relay the carpet in the court room, and put a layer of straw 2 inches thick under the same.

George Leslie was elected county superintendent of public instruction, after a good deal of balloting.

J. R. Johnson was elected keeper of the poor for the ensuing twelve months, with privilege of keeping them two years.

The finance committee elected to serve during the year are—W. F. Maiden, J. P. Lashlee, and W. C. Benton.

B. D. Furr was elected officer to wait on the grand jury.

W. R. Marchbanks was elected county coroner to serve for the ensuing twelve months.

Charles Miller was released from paying poll tax for the year 1890 and from working the public roads.

Thomas Malin was released from working the public road during the year 1891.

A petition from E. Holland, T. W. Pafford, and J. Melton, praying permission from the honorable county court to change the Camden and Mouth of Cypress Road to a line between the interested parties, was granted.

The petition to establish a road in the tenth civil district, beginning at Eva, and crossing Cypress Creek at Wood's bridge, then up the creek bottom by the place of G. W. Hardin, where it would intersect the Camden and Cooley Landing Road, was dismissed.

W. S. Terry, Henry Bishop, and J. S. Walker were appointed by the court to view out a road leading from district line to Brevard's barn, known as the new Camden road, to be changed from near the residence of G. W. Woods to Manley Chapel, so as to run near the residence of J. N. Walker, the committee to report at the next term of county court.

H. A. Green, William Shurley, and F. B. Barker were appointed by the court to have the bridge across Birdsong Creek repaired.

S. H. Davidson was released from the payment of poll tax for the years 1890 and 1891 and from work on the road during the year 1891.

The court appointed D. A. Gossett, L. E. Davis, Joseph Allen, T. J. Lowry, and D. J. Allen as a committee to form a basis upon which to assess the taxes for county purposes for the year 1891. The committee agreed upon a basis and reported as follows: For school purposes—on property, 20 cents on the hundred; on privileges, 20 cents on the hundred; on polls, $1. For road purposes—on property, 5 cents on the hundred; on privileges, 5 cents on the hundred. The report was adopted.

The court deferred the assessment of taxes for the year 1891 until the April term of county court.

J. H. Combs was unanimously elected ranger for Benton County.

A motion to instruct committee to proceed to build bridge across Big Sandy River at Warren's Turnpike was laid over until the April term, 1891.

The committee, G. B. Greer, L. E. Davis, T. J. Lowry, and Tom C.

Rye, who were appointed to purchase and erect an iron fence around the court house, were not prepared to report the expenses of the same, and the committee was instructed to ascertain the full amount of expenses and report the same to the judge of the county court who was instructed to issue warrants for the amount.

The report of the finance committee reflects a great deal of credit on the officials of the county.

A resolution that no school director pay more than $25 per month to any teacher in the public schools of the county during the year 1891, was adopted.

William Shurley gave bond as magistrate of the eleventh civil district.

The report of county superintendent of public instruction, J. H. Harper, was read and filed.

Matthew G. Holland, failing to give bond for the payment of the amount assessed against him in the bastardy case, was committed to the county jail.

The settlement of trustee W. J. Barnes shows that the amount of warrants issued in access of the available assets makes a total of $1,589.81.
